

Wine Composition

Variety:	Dolcetto (100 )
Origin:	Idiot's Grace Vineyard, Mosier, OR, USA
Grower:	Brian McCormick
The Site:	From our first grape planting in Mosier, from a corner of the vineyard that, despite its upland location, is underlain by remarkably sticky clay. Certified organic.
The Vintage:	2014 was year three in a four-vintage warming streak. Water availability lagged demand toward the end of ripening,
Harvest:	October 6, at 22.2° Brix
Lab:	pH 2.68; 13.7% ABV
A Few Words:	A fine, warm year gave vigor and perfume, provocatively imbued with the wildness of the spontaneous, vineyard-spawned ferment.

A Few More Words...

My affection for the product of this small parcel of vines is disproportionately strong. The grape is tricky in the field and unruly in the cellar, and while the result is still something of a happy surprise each year, the usefulness and delight of Dolcetto at the table is never in doubt.
